

Executive appointments

Executive Director Northern Territory

Together as partners

- Lead our work in the Northern Territory
- Strong focus on Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander programs
- Be part of the National Leadership Team

Red Cross is focused on working with the most vulnerable people and communities in a nationally coordinated way. We now have a unique opportunity for an outstanding individual to lead our work in Northern Territory and support our commitment to long-term and respectful partnerships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities.

Leading a team of staff and volunteers and engaging with members, you will ensure our services and program delivery within Northern Territory are contemporary, effective and aligned.

You will have demonstrated experience and leadership in partnership and service development, as well as in resource and financial management. Your high level people management and effective communication skills, energy, drive and focus will underpin your success in this role.

A proven track record of success working with Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities is essential for this role.
