Health Careers & Opportunities in the Northern Territory

If you want your career to go places then join Department of Health in the Northern Territory. The challenges and opportunities in health and community care in the Territory are like no other in Australia, from remote Aboriginal health to tropical health and Australia's National Critical Care and Trauma Response Centre. Continued investments in Aboriginal health, remote health, acute care and community services offer many opportunities for health professionals who want to be part of making a difference.

REMOTE HEALTH

Remote Health Medical Unit offers a range of unique opportunities to participate in delivering medical services in Indigenous Health in the Top End and Central Australia. Positions are based in Darwin and Alice Springs with practitioners providing fly in / fly out services to remote communities. In addition, there are positions that are based in remote communities.

Further, if you don't wish to relocate to the Northern Territory (NT) at all, opportunities exist to participate in Telehealth medical services where you can provide telephone and/or videoconferencing advice remotely from anywhere in Australia.

We also have regular Locum opportunities available for 2 weeks or longer so if you can only commit for short periods please phone to discuss this option.

Remote Health Medical Unit prides itself on providing flexible work arrangements to suit the needs of medical practitioners willing to provide this valuable service to remote NT.

Remote Health Medical Unit offers the following range of remuneration packages. Contracts for up to 5 years are available on a full-time, part-time or casual basis.
