WHAT it needs is a speedier way to make the decision of you are in, or you go back to where you came from. But as long as courts are allowed to overrule the government it will only take longer to sort it out.

YOU have my support. I never met a boat person I didn't like. I have met many bogans I can't stand the sight of.

LET THEM in by the thousands and we will send them around to your place to burn the place down and defy our laws whenever they don't get their own way. You don't know the first thing about these people. They could be criminals, terrorists or worse. The majority of Australians do not want these illegal immigrants here. You are in the minority, and just because we don't all follow your point of view does not make us bogans, you naive fool.

GLAD to see Kylie is someone who speaks up and out... It's a beautiful thing... I agree completely.

I AGREE. I was horrified to read some of the comments over the last week or so. The thing is, it is easier to simply regurgitate the simplistic slogans of pseudopopulist commentators such as Bolt and Jones, than to educate oneself regarding the facts. It is a shame that phrases such as illegal immigrants and queue jumpers have entered the vernacular. Both terms are patently false when it comes to dealing with asylum seekers.

GOOD article — about time the decent side of us Aussies was put on display. Proposing that there are no genuine refugees is like saying that wars and conflict do not exist.

YOR A crock of s Kylie. Where the hell was this so-called poll done? To say a majority of australians want onshore processing is a crock of s — what you guna do when we have hundreds of thousands of wealfair bludgers in getos living near you? You'd be the first to winge. I agree on genuine refugees not the ones who pay big dollars to get here and then get their relatives over. Wake up idiot.

THANK you! You nailed it. Absolutely bang on. I'm not from Darwin, but I know of a wonderful group called the Darwin Asylum Seeker Support and Advocacy Network (DASSAN), who do amazing and brave work visiting and speaking up for refugees locked up in the Northern Immigration Detention Centre. Anyone who is spurred to take action by these thoughtful and true words should look them up: dassan.weebly.com
