CHINESE-BASED GROUP SECURES JETS

THE new owner of the Newcastle Jets rates the A-League as one of Asia's top professional football competitions and is excited by the potential of the club.

Football Federation Australia announced it had completed a 100 per cent sale of the club to Ledman Group, a leading high-tech LED signage manufacturer, operator and integrated sports business headquartered in Shenzhen, China.

Former Central Coast coach and executive, Lawrie McKinna, was confirmed as the club's new chief executive officer. The Jets had been under the ownership of the FFA since May 2015.

They have spent millions keeping the Jets afloat and stabilising their on- and off-field operations after stripping former owner Nathan Tinkler of his A-League licence after he placed the club into administration.

The sale, understood to be worth more than $5 million, marks the first major Chinese investment in the A-League.

Italy, Spain off to flying start

ITALY opened its campaign with an impressive victory over Belgium, while defending champion Spain beat the Czech Republic on a good day for the big teams at the European Championship in France yesterday.

Ridiculed by their own media as one of the country's worst tournament teams, the Italian players responded with a remarkable 2-0 victory in Lyon that sent the Azzurri to the top of Group E after Sweden and Ireland drew I-I in an earlier match in Paris.

Spain needed a late goal from Gerard Pique to beat a particularly stubborn Czech Republic 1-0 in Toulouse.

Though the football finally took centre stage, Euro 2016 remains dogged by an opening weekend that witnessed drink-fueled violence involving English and Russian fans on the streets of Marseille and the city's stadium. Yesterday, a Marseille court convicted six English supporters and imposed prison sentences ranging from one-to-three months to five of them.

There are concerns of further trouble in northern France this week, with Russia playing Slovakia tonight in Lille, about 30km from Lens, where England plays Wales tomorrow night.

Tight defending and two well-taken goals were the keys to Italy's victory in Lyon against a Belgium lineup tipped by some to win the tournament. While the likes of Eden Hazard and Kevin De Bruyne failed to deliver, despite Belgium enjoying plenty of possession, Emanuele Giaccherini and Graziano Pelle made a mockery of Italy's underdog status.

Giaccherini pounced on a stunning 40m ball over the Belgium defense by Leonardo Bonucci to score in the 32nd minute and Pelle rounded off a breakaway with an unstoppable volley from inside the area in stoppage time.

Spain's match followed an all too familiar pattern, with its opponents putting it men behind the ball and hoping for a draw while the European champions patiently try to create an opening.

Sweden's game at Saint-Denis was a great deal more balanced, with Ireland well worth its 48th-minute lead when Wes Hoolahan swept in Seamus Coleman's cross with a sweetly-struck half volley.

As ever, though, the talismanic Zlatan Ibrahimovic came to Sweden's rescue. His dangerous ball across the face of the goal was met with a stooping header by luckless Ireland defender Ciaran Clark into his own net.
